I would especially recommend it to parents so that they may understand the risks and what to do about them.3 of 3 people found the following review helpful. care workers and church leaders need to read this book. It is money VERY WELL spent! A pizza you will forget tomorrow. The knowledge and insight from this book will last forever. But most of all what you learn could spare a child you love! 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. If you are a parent this book is an absolute must have!! By Jana Jensen The stories and "predator beware" education to protect your children in this book is a top notch must read! It is written by a retired police detective who had dedicated his career and post retirement for this cause and has unique experience and insight into the risk factors and psyche of predators. This book is excellent!!

How to Protect Your Children From Sexual Predators - A Police Investigator's Perspective. A special Lighthouse Trails edition of this crucial book by Patrick Crough, retired investigative sergeant from New York Patrick Crough, through the lens of his Christian faith, shares his experience as an investigative officer for child sex abuses cases for many years in New York. The book includes many case examples, which illustrate how abuse can happen at the hands of trusted individuals, such as in the Sandusky case. While Crough acknowledges that there are many wonderful teachers, coaches, youth pastors, etc. who are truly giving their lives to serve children, there are also predators in these stations of life who are hunting for innocent children. Crough's book gives practical and vital instruction and information on how to protect your children from sexual predators.

Thank you so much for publishing this work! What a breath of fresh air from the often mean-spirited or biblically void works that are out there! We will be carrying the book in our campus store. I will be using it for a text in my graduate crisis counseling course, and I'm sending copies to my married daughters and their husbands. Just wanted to thank you for your work and for the foresight in publishing this book. I hope it gets a wide circulation. May God continue to bless you. --A professor of a Christian seminary I met Patrick several years ago at a Calvary Chapel Education Conference where he gave a short seminar on child predators. I purchased a copy of his book at that time and have recommended to many others. As a retired police investigator, Patrick has a unique insight into how best to protect the children God has placed in our charge from the predators among us - sometimes within the church itself. While the book can be chilling and disturbing because of its "no-holds-barred" approach to the topic, I highly recommend this book to Pastors, youth workers, and parents. Patrick truly has a heart for protecting our little ones. --Jim Stowe, Assistant Pastor, Calvary Chapel of Russell, PA Though at times difficult to read, those who persist will be rewarded with the rare ability to recognize early signs that a "seducer" is in their midst. With the wisdom of a street hardened cop and the loving heart of a father softened by the grace of God, Patrick Crough has woven a tale that you are not soon to forget. Nor should you, for his message could save your child from a lifetime of pain and suffering - or even more, lead you, and the child you love, to an eternity of unspeakable joy! --David Francisco, M.D. Evil lurks under the most innocuous of sources. "Seducers Among Our Children: How to Protect Your Child From Sexual Predators" is a collection of advice from retired investigator Patrick Crough, on how to not only protect one's children, but also teach them to protect themselves from sexually abusive persons who will try to lure them. With sage advice on coping with this, "Seducers Among Our Children" has plenty for parents to consider on how to talk to their children about serious issues. --James A.
