

(Download pdf ebook) Social Gerontology: A Multidisciplinary Perspective (9th Edition)

Social Gerontology: A Multidisciplinary Perspective (9th Edition)

Nancy R. Hooyman, H. Asuman Kiyak
ePub | *DOC | audiobook | ebooks | Download PDF

#25038 in Books Pearson 2010-02-01 Ingredients: Example Ingredients Original language: English PDF # 1
9.30 x 1.30 x 7.40l, 2.57 #File Name: 0205763138816 pages | File size: 48.Mb

Nancy R. Hooyman, H. Asuman Kiyak : Social Gerontology: A Multidisciplinary Perspective (9th Edition)

before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Social Gerontology: A Multidisciplinary Perspective (9th Edition):

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Informative book By TKI bought this book for a class I was taking. It does come in different editions (with the same cover) so be sure to check. This book reads like a textbook, so I did tire of that format. Lots of pertinent information for a senior who might not have any other resources. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Contents Good, Quality of Product... Not so Much... By Robert N. The book has good information in it. The quality of the book is less than it should be for the cost of the book. The books bindings separate between signatures. I had to return my first book for various reasons including this. I replaced it by purchasing a new book, and it immediately started to have problems here. It seems to be an issue with the book. Hopeful with newer runs of the book this will be taken care of. 2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. The book was in very poor quality. The book is very worn out and ... By Customer The book was in very poor quality. The book is very worn out and could fall apart anyway. It is highlighted paragraphs all over the book and I was overall not happy about the quality of the book in terms of appearance

This best-selling, multidisciplinary, social aging text presents positive images of aging while considering the many factors that contribute to how aging individuals experiences life. Up-to-date and expanded, this text offers a comprehensive view that presents aging positively, portraying concepts of active aging and resiliency, and defining productive aging by elaborating on the numerous ways elders contribute to society and their families. Based on the latest research findings, it offers greater depth to critical issues of aging, attending to differences by age and cohort, gender, ethnic minority status, sexual orientation, and socio-economic status. If you want to purchase the book and access code order this ISBN 0205802621 / 9780205802623 Social Gerontology:Multidisciplinary Perspective and MySocKit Access Code Package consists of 0205684297 / 9780205684298 MySocKit -- Valuepack Access Card 0205763138 / 9780205763139 Social Gerontology: A Multidisciplinary Perspective

The UCLA teaching team for the class we have taught for now 11 years agreed your text book will be ours next year...Biologist Rita Effros (recent recipient of the Kleimier Award) thought you covered the biology better than the other texts we have used...I love the treatment of women and ethnic elders. The strength perspective, yes! We are all excited about using it for our 180 freshman. Now we will be even better with your book! - JoAnn Damron-Rodriguez and colleagues, UCLA

From the Back Cover This best-selling, multidisciplinary, social aging text presents positive images of aging while considering the many factors that contribute to how aging individuals experiences life. Up-to-date and expanded, this text offers a comprehensive view that presents aging positively, portraying concepts of active aging and resiliency, and defining "productive aging" by elaborating on the numerous ways elders contribute to society and their families. Based on the latest research findings, it offers greater depth to critical issues of aging, attending to differences by age and cohort, gender, ethnic minority status, sexual orientation, and socio-economic status.

About the Author Nancy R. Hooyman Nancy R. Hooyman holds the Hooyman Professorship of Gerontology and is dean emeritus at the School of Social Work at the University of Washington. Her MSW and Ph.D. in sociology and social work are from the University of Michigan. She is nationally recognized for her scholarship in aging and multigenerational policy and practice, gender inequities in family caregiving, and feminist gerontology. In addition to this textbook, Dr. Hooyman is the co-author of Living through Loss: Interventions across the Life Span; Taking Care of Aging Family Members; and Feminist Perspectives on Family Care: Policies for Gender Justice, and editor of Transforming Social Work Education: The First Decade of the Hartford Geriatric Social Work Initiative. She has published over 120 articles and chapters and is a frequent national and international presenter on issues related to gerontology, a multigenerational perspective, and women. She is Co-Principal Investigator of the Council on Social Work Education's National Center for Gerontological Social Work Education, funded by the John A. Hartford Foundation, and an advisory board member and national research mentor for the Hartford Geriatric Social Work Faculty Scholars Program. A Fellow in the Gerontological Society of America, Dr. Hooyman is past-chair of GSA's Social Research, Policy and Practice Section. She received the Significant Lifetime Achievement in Social Work Education Award from the Council on Social Work Education in 2009.

H. Asuman Kiyak H. Asuman Kiyak is Director of the Institute on Aging, professor in the School of Dentistry, and adjunct professor in the Departments of Architecture and Psychology at the University of Washington. She obtained her M.A. and Ph.D. in psychology at Wayne State University. Professor Kiyak has been the recipient of major research grants from NIH, CDC, AOA, the State of Washington, and private foundations in the areas of health promotion and health service utilization by older adults, and in person-environment adaptation to Alzheimer's disease by patients and their caregivers. She has published over 130 articles and 35 chapters in these areas and is known nationally and internationally for her research on geriatric dental care and the application of psychological theory to health promotion. In 2000 she received the Distinguished Scientist Award from the International Association for Dental Research, and has served as president of the Geriatric Oral Research, and the Behavioral Sciences and Health Services Research Groups of IADR. Dr. Kiyak was Principal Investigator of a recently completed clinical trial in geriatric dentistry funded by the National Institute of Dental and Craniofacial Research, and two studies of a community-based health promotion study funded by the CDC. She has collaborated with Intel to test new technologies and to sponsor conferences on this topic to help older adults remain active and independent. In 2003 she was named Distinguished Professor of Geriatrics at UCLA, and received the Teaching Excellence Award from the University of Washington Educational Outreach division. Professor Kiyak is a Fellow in the Gerontological Society of America.